Game FAQ's

How do players gift Hosts?

Players purchase gifts for Hosts from a selection of static and animated gifts - the purchase price is deducted from their wallet in exactly the same way as a normal bet.

How do the Hosts reward the players?

The rewards system is automated and managed by the platform – Rewards are calculated on a per player' basis and credited directly to the player's wallet. Hosts will send players private messages via Live Chat notifying them of their reward.

Do I (Operator) have to contribute to the player rewards?

No. The rewards are derived from actual game play and do NOT affect the RTP.

How many Hosts are there?

There will be 4 Hosts for the initial launch period. This will increase to approx. 20 Hosts within the next 6 - 12 months.

What languages do the Hosts speak?

Currently Chinese only. We'll add more languages as we increase the number of Hosts.

What times do the Hosts operate?

16:00 – 03:00 Daily (GMT+8) . We'll add to the schedule as we introduce new Hosts to the platform.

Do the players bet/ play directly against the Hosts?

No. The games are all RNG based. The Hosts are there to enhance the product/ player experience through interacting with and entertaining the audience.

How many games are there?

We're initially launching with one version of Fire Dice - additional games will be launched on a monthly basis thereafter.

Can I still play Fire Dice when there's no Host?

Yes. The game is still running and a pre-recorded video will play until the Host is back live again! When there is not host available in the room, there will be a message presented to advise when the next show starts.

Will the Host see the game screen?

Yes. The Host can only see the game screen for tipping players, but cannot interfere the game.

What browsers are supported?

Certain browsers like UC and QQ unfortunately don't work well with live broadcasting. It is recommended to play the game with Chrome or Safari.
